

TWO FAMOUS AIR MEN KILLED

AIRSHIP EXHIBITION EXCITES HONOLULU

EVERYBODY HEADED FOR THE SCENE OF AIRSHIP FLIGHTS

Nearly all Honolulu is going to Moanalua this afternoon, and the bird-men will fly. It is announced, rain or shine. In view of the gathering clouds Promoter Scully, who is the local man in charge, was asked what would happen if the weather misbehaved as it did yesterday afternoon. He said that the machines would go up whether it rained or not, unless it rained like it did last night. "Rain like that would stop a street car," he said, "and might prevent the flights. But the weather we are having is really better for the airships than clear weather. The atmosphere is heavier, and it is therefore naturally easier to float the machines."

The greatest crowd that ever gathered at the Moanalua grounds is heading there this afternoon. All the autos in town are engaged and hacks and buggies also have been requisitioned, to take people to the natural amphitheater in which Honolulu is to have her first chance to see the latest marvel of modern invention. Flying machines are an old story in some parts of the world, but Hawaii has never seen one, and there is universal desire to watch one of them in action.

The Rapid Transit Company has made preparations to handle a record crowd. Extra cars will be put on, and the people will be landed at the end of the car line by car after car, in quick succession. A bus service will take them to the grounds, as fast as possible, though it is conceded that if there is a big rush at the end it will be impossible to carry all the crowd, and many will probably have to walk.

The biplane in which "Bud" Mars is to fly today has been tested and found to be in good shape, and a successful exhibition is expected.

There will be airship flights tomorrow and Monday, at the same place, and Sunday and Monday, the latter being a holiday, will probably see large crowds again on the scene. On Sunday tickets for the grounds will be obtainable at the Young hotel, the Empire theater and the Gunst cigar store.

PORTO RICAN GIRL TAKEN FROM HERE TO SEOUL IS RESCUED AND RETURNED

Federal authorities and the Reverend Wadman are interested in the present welfare of a Porto Rican girl, Pedra Sierra, who several months ago left Honolulu in company with a Korean man and from whom she was recently rescued in Seoul, Korea, and sent back to Honolulu. She is friendly though supposed to have a brother here, and is without funds and kindly people are endeavoring to ease her burden of distress.

The American consul at Seoul reports that she arrived at that Korean city in company with a Korean man and that the couple had lived together for some time in Honolulu; that the Korean had lured her to Seoul under the pretence that he was unmarried and had taken from her $150, which he had spent. When he got her to Seoul she found that he had a wife and children. He stripped her of her American clothes and sold them, making her his servant and treating her cruelly. She communicated with the consul who put the matter in the hands of a deputy who saw that she returned to Honolulu with some little fund which had been collected for her. She returned on the China, the passengers thereof having also assisted with a contribution.

In Seoul, while with the man who lured her from Hawaii, she was kept in an out building with mud floors and wall, which was both dark and damp, the man refusing to give her the common necessities of life or sufficient food, frequently abusing and beating her. She was nearly starved when released by an officer of the consulate general and her mind as well as her body appeared to be giving away. Generous Americans in Seoul raised enough money to return her to Hawaii where she could be with her relatives.

"Although she is not an American citizen, as a Porto Rican she is entitled to the assistance and protection of American authorities," says the American consul in Seoul.

TEACHERS TO BE LATE AT SCHOOL

There are several teachers in Honolulu, who will be late in getting back to their schools, and the fault lies with the director of the weather. When the Mauna Kea left yesterday she should have taken in as ports of call, Labaina, McGregor's Landing and Laupahoehoe, but owing to the boisterous weather that was prevailing it was decided to omit these ports and go direct to Hilo with the excursionists. Ordinarily, the landings can be made in the roughest weather, owing to the sheltered condition of the islands, but there was a strong wind blowing from the south, and it would have been impossible to land in small boats, so it was decided to go direct to Hilo.

FORFEITING BAILS DOES NOT BRING RELEASE

In two cases in the police court this morning the time-honored scheme of avoiding trial by forfeiting bail was frustrated. One was that of a man arrested for drunkenness, who was reported as keeping it up, and the other that of Ishizu, a Japanese arrested for selling bad fish.

Ishizu was out on $10 bail, and didn't appear. Judge Lymer ordered bail forfeited but didn't seem to think that forfeiting $10 bail was punishment enough, for he ordered a bench warrant issued.

Moniz is the alleged drunk whose forfeit of the usual $6 did not save him. Deputy County Attorney Brown asked for a forfeit of bail and a bench warrant too, remarking that he had reports that the absent defendant was whooping it up some more.

Two other defendants were up for drunkenness. They were Tony Watson and Manuel Ornellas. Brown asked for leniency in both cases, as the two were new offenders and had regular employment. At his suggestion sentence was deferred until Thursday, their next pay day, when they will appear and pay the customary fines.

SCARLET FEVER CLOSES SCHOOLS

Word has been received that scarlet fever has broken out at Kapaa, Kauai. The particulars received are very meager, and it is not known whether the outbreak is a serious one, but no chances are being taken, so the school there will not re-open on Tuesday next, the due date. There are fully 450 pupils attending the school, who are instructed by nine teachers.

JARRETT'S POLITICAL ORDER HITS NEW DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN

Harry Juen, who has just been chosen to succeed Col. C. J. McCarthy, resigned, as chairman of the Democratic county committee, is up against the proposition of either resigning from the committee or losing his job at the county jail. Sheriff Jarrett said this morning that his order against employees of the police department being on political committees was going to be carried out. "Any employees of the department who are on committees will have to quit the committees or quit the department," he said, when asked about the case of Juen.

Incidentally, it is said that there are many Democrats after the scalp of Juen, who started out a couple of weeks ago after the scalp of Chief of Detectives McDuffie. Various influential Democrats are accusing him of "knocking" and it is said that his own scalp is now in danger.

Jarrett's order is quite a new departure, and tends towards taking the police department out of politics. The sheriff said this morning that he didn't want his acts as sheriff discussed by political committees consisting partly of his own employees. He understood that, in a political sense, the party committees were supposed to be his superiors, and didn't propose to have his own employees in such committees.

IMMIGRANTS HERE FROM SOUTH AMERICA

Gazing for the first time upon the beauties and allurements of Honolulu, from far away Peru, there are today aboard the T. K. K. Kiyo Maru, lying at anchor in quarantine off port, an American and his wife and their four children, yearning for the moment when the yellow flag will be hauled down and they will be allowed to set foot in the city of which they have heard so much and where they have determined to spend the rest of their lives.

Edward Sinclair who since 1906 has been chief clerk to American Consul W. Henry Robertson, in Peru, and who originally came from New Orleans, sought a more pleasing climate than that in which he has for the last four years resided and he and his wife made up their minds to come to Hawaii. There is nothing to prevent their landing, they being first cabin passengers, and the first white immigrants to Hawaii from Peru. They will this evening or tomorrow morning bring bag and baggage ashore and establish their home in Honolulu.

Mr. Sinclair brings strong letters of recommendation and the American consul above referred to declares he and his family are such immigrants as should be made most heartily welcome to Hawaii.

THREE MORE CASES ON MAUI

Three fresh cases of scarlet fever have been reported from Paia, and four contacts have been isolated at Puunene. There are no fresh cases of varioloid. This is the news from Maui regarding that island's bill of health, and was all contained in a wireless telegram received by Dr. Pratt this morning. Necessarily the details were bare, but it is not anticipated that there is likely to be a serious outbreak at either of the places mentioned.

Dr. Pratt said that there was only one case of scarlet fever at Kapaa, but it was thought better to run no risks from infection, so all sorts of precautions are to be taken, including the non-opening of the school on Tuesday next. How long the school will remain closed cannot be determined at present.
